

Clean Energy Authorization Permission Management

Publication 5902 (1-2025) Catalog Number 94565O Department of the Treasury Internal Revenue Service www.irs.gov

Permission Management Overview

This User Guide and Instructions are meant to serve as an overview for creating clean energy accounts on IRS Energy Credits Online and the different permissions granted. These steps will show different screens and are meant to serve as a guide for the user.

This User Guide and Instructions includes general information and instructions on the following topics:

- Accessing the clean energy account log in page
- Creating one or more IRS Energy Credits Online Accounts
- Troubleshooting potential errors
- Creating additional authorizations and the role each one has

Identity Verification

All users will need to verify their personal identity. The IRS uses ID.me, a technology provider, to provide identity verification and sign-in services. If you have an ID.me account, just sign in. Don't create a new ID.me account for your business. If you're a new user, have your government issued photo identification ready. Verify your personal identity – not your business information – with ID.me. IRS Energy Credits Online Functionality

Users can register an organization to use IRS Energy Credits Online functionality for one or more of the following types tasks:

- Clean Vehicle Dealer or Seller: Submit required Time-Of-Sale reports and request Advance Payments for tax
- Clean Vehicle Manufacturer: Enter into qualified manufacturing agreements and submit required periodic reports
- Clean Energy (Elective Pay or Transfer Election) Entity or Semiconductor Manufacturer: Request registration numbers for clean energy tax credits or as a semiconductor manufacturer
- Energy Efficient Home Improvement Product Manufacturers: Enter into qualified manufacturing agreements and submit Qualified Manufacturer PIN Reports (QMPRs) for the qualified specified products you manufacture.

The first user to register on behalf of an entity will be assigned as a 'Clean Energy Officer' for the entity.

- This user has access to all IRS Energy Credits Online functionality for the entity. This includes the - ability to authorize additional users and assign permissions governing what IRS Energy Credit Online functionality subsequent users will have.
- For any subsequent users to gain access to IRS Energy Credits Online functionality, the first user to register on behalf of an entity must directly or by authorizing additional Clean Energy Officer's must first authorize each subsequent users access.

• Any user with the "Clean Energy Officer" role in IRS Energy Credits Online can modify or revoke permissions for any user associated with the entity, including the first user.

Additional Users

Once the first user has created an account for the organization, share the link with additional user. Each additional user will need:

1. An Account Associated with the Entity:

- An ID.me account is needed to verify the user's identity. Use an existing ID.me account or have government issued photo identification ready to create a new ID.me account.
- The entity's EIN and the entity's name as shown on the most recent tax return
- Their title within the organization

2. To Notify the Appropriate User of the Authorization Request

- Once the new login account and account creation request is submitted, notify the appropriate individual in your organization that you've submitted a request
- Only authorized users can review the request by visiting the "manage business users" tab of the entity's account.
- 3. To Receive Authorization
 - A 'Clean Energy Officer' for your entity will need to approve the request in IRS Energy Credits Online

User Roles

- The users who are responsible for managing an entity's users and assigning permissions (i.e., Clean Energy Officers) should pay close attention to the roles assigned to other users in their organization.
- Clean vehicle dealers or sellers should generally assign employees who need access to submit Time-Of-Sale Reports and/or request Advance Payments access the "dealer/seller" role. Users assigned the "dealer/seller" role can't manage other users permissions.
- Users requesting elective pay election, transfer election, or semiconductor manufacturer registration numbers should generally be assigned the "Clean Energy Delegate" role or "CE Third Party User" role if they do not need authority to manage user permissions for the entity.
- Clean vehicle manufacturers: should generally assign employees who need access to submitperiodic reports
- EEHIC Qualified Manufacturers: Energy Efficient Home Improvement product manufacturers should generally assign employees who need access to submit periodic reports and who need access to query previously submitted reports.

Clean Energy Sign in

If you do not currently have an online account, you will need to create one.

The IRS uses ID.me, a technology provider, to provide identity verification and sign-in services.

- If you have an ID.me account, just sign in. Don't create a new ID.me account for your business.
- If you're a new user, have your photo identification ready. Verify your personal identity – not your business information – with ID.me.
